What is a Language Portfolio?

The New English File Language Portfolio is a document to help you learn languages more effectively. It helps you to think about how you learn, and provides a record to show other people your language abilities and progress.

It has three sections:

the Passport
the Biography
the Dossier

The Passport is a summary of your language learning experiences, including time spent abroad, courses attended, certificates gained, and books you've used. There is a self-assessment grid for each language skill area (graded from CEF levels A1–C2), to help you decide on your current language level.

You show this section to other people when changing schools, or applying for a job.

The Biography is a summary of your language learning history, including the languages you've grown up with, your language learning experiences at school, and how you use your languages now. There are also suggestions on how to become a more effective learner. This section also contains a CEF checklist of 'Can do' statements.

This section helps you to plan your learning, think about how you learn, and improve the way you learn.

The Dossier is the section where you collect examples of your work. This helps you to record your progress.

How to use your New English File Language Portfolio

The main aim of the Portfolio is to present language qualifications and learning experiences in a clear and comparable way. This means that when students move around Europe, for study, business or travel, they can take their Portfolio with them as proof of learning.

This means that it is important to keep the information in your Portfolio up-to-date.

Updating your Portfolio

Language Passport: Complete this section soon. Update it every three months.

Language Biography: Update this more regularly, e.g. at the end of each unit.

Dossier: Add new pieces of work to the Dossier as frequently as you want – for example if you write a letter in class, or a review for homework.

How to use your Language Passport

Your Language Passport is a record of your language qualifications and experiences. It is also where you assess your overall language level. As the Language Passport is proof of your language abilities, you can show it to potential employers, when you apply for a language course, or when you change schools.

Keep this section up-to-date.

Self-assessment grids

Use the following grids to help you complete your Profile of language skills.

Common reference levels A1 and A2

	CEF level A1	CEF level A2
Listening	I can recognise familiar words and very basic phrases concerning myself, my family and immediate concrete surroundings when people speak slowly and clearly.	I can understand phrases and the highest frequency vocabulary related to areas of most immediate personal relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local area, employment). I can catch the main point in short, clear, simple messages and announcements.
Reading	I can understand familiar names, words and very simple sentences, for example on notices and posters or in catalogues.	I can read very short, simple texts. I can find specific, predictable information in simple everyday material such as advertisements, prospectuses, menus and timetables, and I can understand short, simple personal letters.
Spoken interaction	I can interact in a simple way provided the other person is prepared to repeat or rephrase things at a slower rate of speech and help me formulate what I'm trying to say. I can ask and answer simple questions in areas of immediate need or on very familiar topics.	I can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar topics and activities. I can handle very short social exchanges, even though I can't usually understand enough to keep the conversation going myself.
Spoken production	I can use simple phrases and sentences to describe where I live and people I know.	I can use a series of phrases and sentences to describe in simple terms my family and other people, living conditions, my educational background and my present or most recent job.
Writing	I can write a short, simple postcard, for example sending holiday greetings. I can fill in forms with personal details, for example entering my name, nationality and address on a hotel registration form.	I can write short, simple notes and messages relating to matters in areas of immediate need. I can write a very simple personal letter, for example thanking someone for something.

Common reference levels B1 and B2

	CEF level B1	CEF level B2
Listening	I can understand the main points of clear standard speech on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc. I can understand the main point of many radio or TV programmes on current affairs or topics of personal and professional interest when the delivery is slow and clear.	I can understand extended speech and lectures and follow even complex lines of argument provided the topic is reasonably familiar. I can understand most TV news and current affairs programmes. I can understand the majority of films in standard dialect.
Reading	I can understand texts that consist mainly of high frequency everyday or job-related language. I can understand the description of events, feelings and wishes in personal letters.	I can read articles and reports concerned with contemporary problems in which the writers adopt particular attitudes or viewpoints. I can understand contemporary literary prose.
Spoken interaction	I can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst travelling in an area where the language is spoken. I can enter unprepared into conversations on topics that are familiar, of personal interest or on everyday life (family, hobbies, work, travel, current events).	I can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native speakers quite possible. I can take an active part in discussion in familiar contexts, accounting for and sustaining my views.
Spoken production	I can connect phrases in a simple way to describe experiences and events, my dreams, hopes and ambitions. I can briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions and plans. I can narrate a story or relate the plot of a book or film and describe my reactions.	I can present clear, detailed descriptions on a wide range of subjects related to my field of interest. I can explain a viewpoint on a topical issue giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.
Writing	I can write simple connected text on topics which are familiar or of a personal interest. I can write personal letters describing experiences and impressions.	I can write clear, detailed text on a wide range of subjects related to my interests. I can write an essay or report, passing on information or giving reasons in support of or against a particular point of view. I can write letters highlighting the personal significance of events and experiences.

Common reference levels C1 and C2

	CEF level C1	CEF level C2
Listening	I can understand extended speech even when it is not clearly structured and when relationships are only implied and not signalled explicitly. I can understand TV programmes and films without much effort.	I have no difficulty in understanding any kind of spoken language, whether live or broadcast, even when delivered at fast native speed, provided I have some time to get familiar with the accent.
Reading	I can understand long and complex factual and literary texts, appreciating distinctions of style. I can understand specialised articles and longer technical instructions, even when they do not relate to my field.	I can read with ease virtually all forms of the written language, including abstract, structurally or linguistically complex texts such as manuals, specialised articles and literary works.
Spoken interaction	I can express myself fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions. I can use language flexibly and effectively for social and professional purposes. I can formulate ideas and opinions with precision and relate my contributions skilfully to those of other speakers.	I can take part effortlessly in any conversation or discussion and have a good familiarity with idiomatic expressions and colloquialisms. I can express myself fluently and convey finer shades of meaning precisely. If I do have a problem I can backtrack and restructure around the difficulty so smoothly that other people are hardly aware of it.
Spoken production	I can present clear, detailed descriptions of complex subjects integrating sub-themes, developing particular points and rounding off with an appropriate conclusion.	I can present a clear, smooth-flowing description or argument in a style appropriate to the context and with an effective logical structure which helps the recipient to notice and remember significant points.
Writing	I can express myself in clear, well-structured text, expressing points of view at some length. I can write about complex subjects in a letter, an essay or report, underlining what I consider to be salient issues. I can select a style that is appropriate to the reader I have in mind.	I can write clear, smoothly-flowing text in an appropriate style. I can write complex letters, reports or articles which present a case with an effective logical structure which helps the recipient to notice and remember significant points. I can write summaries and reviews of professional or literary works.

How to use your Language Biography

Your Language Biography is a tool to help you think about why you are learning English and the best way for you to learn. The Language Biography can help you to become a more effective learner by helping you focus on your objectives, and a learning style that suits your needs.

Your aims and objectives

Think about why you are learning English (for work, travel, etc.) and what level of English you will need to achieve those objectives – you can refer to the CEF levels in your Language Passport to assist you.

Your language and cultural experiences

Tick the boxes for the approaches which best describe the learning style you feel most comfortable with.

☐ I prefer to learn practical examples first and become aware of grammatical rules through using these.	☐ I prefer to study the grammar first and build my own sentences until I feel I have a practical repertoire.
☐ I prefer to be given the linguistic facts and then to work on these by myself until I feel confident that I can communicate with little risk of error.	☐ I prefer an interactive approach to mastering new language, 'taking risks' in putting over meaning and learning from any resulting errors.

How to become a more effective learner

Look at these ways of studying and learning. Tick ✓ the methods you currently use. Put an asterisk ✳ next to methods you'd like to use in the future.

Ways of studying
Ask your teacher questions when you don't understand.
Keep a vocabulary notebook and write example sentences, phonetics, and translations in it.
Write new words on a flash-card – English on one side, your language on the other. Learn three every day.
Put lists of English words on your bedroom wall – use headings, e.g. 'jobs', 'food'.
Regularly ask yourself 'How would I say that in English?'
Regularly review your vocabulary notebook and grammar notes.
Review the grammar from the last lesson before the next lesson.
Watch films and TV programmes in English.
Listen to the radio/music in English.
Read English graded readers.
Read websites/magazines/newspapers in English.
Practise English with other people via email or the Internet.
Keep a journal in English.
Write something in English everyday – e.g. your response to a newspaper article, or web-story.
Talk to other students in English outside of class.
Use your MultiROM to learn and revise.
Buy a grammar practice book.
Use an English-English dictionary.
If possible, take a holiday in an English-speaking country.
Share your tips on how to study effectively with other people.

How to use the Dossier

The dossier section of your New English File Language Portfolio allows you to keep any evidence you have of your ability to use English. It is a collection of your work. Choose examples of your work from class, or work that you've done elsewhere.

Examples of evidence you might wish to include are:

- Certificates, or copies of these, relating to qualifications you have listed in the 'passport' section
- Tests
- Reports
- Corrected texts from class
