FILE 3

Listening 1

Nick What do you do, Hannah?
Hannah Me? Oh, I'm a student. I study French at Birmingham University. But I have a job at weekends – on Saturday and Sunday.
Nick OK. So, what's your job?
Hannah I'm a shop assistant in a sandwich shop.
Nick Is that fast food?
Hannah No, it isn't. Our sandwiches are very good. It's a vegetarian sandwich shop, so we have cheese sandwiches and salad sandwiches, but we don't have meat sandwiches.
Nick OK. Only sandwiches then?
Hannah No. We have drinks, of course … tea, coffee, fruit juice, but we don't have beer or wine. And we have chocolate and fruit.
Nick Do you like your job?
Hannah Oh, yes. I like it very much. I meet a lot of people and I eat a lot of chocolate …

FILE 3

Listening 2

1

Lena You're English, Rob, aren't you?
Rob Yes.
Lena So, do you have bacon and eggs for breakfast?
Rob Er … No, I don't. I have cereal and coffee. And fruit juice.
Lena Oh.

2

Jamie Do you speak English in your job, Maria?
Maria No, I don't. I teach Spanish. So, no.
Jamie Oh, OK. Where do you work?
Maria At the university in the centre, near the hospital.

3

Peter What time do you start work today, Karen?
Karen Today? Oh, in half an hour. At quarter past eight.
Peter Well, hurry up and eat your breakfast then.

4

Sally What do you do in the evenings, Tim?
Tim In the evenings? Er … well, I listen to music and I read books. I don't watch TV or listen to the radio.
Sally OK. Interesting.

5

Gary Do you live near here?
Penny Yes, I do. I have a small house in the centre.
Gary Oh, is it nice?
Penny Yes, it is. Do you want to come for dinner tomorrow?

 © Oxford University Press 2009