Emma Are you busy, Robert?
Robert No. Why?
Emma Well, I'm going to write about my friends on my website, and I want to ask you some questions about your hobbies and interests. Is that OK?
Robert Sure.
Emma Great. OK. So, what do you like doing in your free time?
Robert Well, I love sport. I'm training to do a triathlon at the moment, so I'm running, swimming, and cycling every day. I love bikes, and swimming is great, but, well, running isn't fun. I don't like it much. I also like playing football and tennis.
Emma Yes. And golf. You're always watching golf on TV.
Robert That's true. I love the sport, but only on TV. I never play it.
Emma Do you like reading?
Robert Er … Yeah. I enjoy reading newspapers on a Sunday morning. It's very relaxing.
Emma OK. But when did you last read a book?
Robert A book? Er … well, I read one last week, actually. But, to be honest, I don't like reading books. And I don't like magazines. I prefer watching films.
Emma But you hated the film we went to last Friday.
Robert I know. But that was a romantic film. I love adventure films or horror film. I don't like films where people fall in love. Yuk. That's for girls.
Emma OK. Anything else? What do you like doing in the evenings?
Robert Er … eating out. Yeah. I love going to restaurants, especially Italian ones.
Emma Really? Why's that?
Robert Well, I hate shopping. And cooking. And washing up. So, it's the only way I get any food to eat!

1

Joe Excuse me. Is there a chemist's near here?
Jane Er … yes. Go straight on, turn left, then it's on the right between the bank and the café.
Joe Great. Thank you very much.

2

Ruth What are you going to do next weekend, Simon?
Simon Oh, there's a good film on at the Phoenix on Saturday evening. Dorian Gray. So, I'm going to see it with Tim.
Ruth Oh, right. I know it. I read the book. It was very good.

3

Peter Why are you going to take the train?
Jo Well, I know it's slow – and expensive. But it's because my husband Bill doesn't like planes, you see. It's terrible. He arrives at the airport, and he feels ill. And that's before we get on the plane. He hates it. So we can't fly. Anyway, I like trains.
Peter Me too.

4

Sandy I'm late for work. Where's my umbrella?
Rick But it's going to be hot and sunny today, Sandy. Why do you want your umbrella?
Sandy Hot and sunny? I don't believe it. Yesterday, I didn't take my umbrella and it rained. So, I'm going to take it today. Ah, there it is. OK. Bye.

5

Jason Where's David?
Rose Oh, he's in the town centre. He's going to buy some clothes – new shoes, new shirts, that kind of thing.
Jason When do you think he'll be home?
Rose Oh, not for hours and hours. When he goes to the shops, he has a great time. He loves buying things.
